Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

The Administrative Code is hereby amended by adding Chapter 5, Article X, Sections 5.10-1 through 5.10-7, to read as follows:

ARTICLE X:

SAFER SCHOOLS SEXUAL ASSAULT TASK FORCE

Sec. 5.10-1. Creation of Task Force.

Sec. 5.10-2. Findings.

Sec. 5.10-3. Membership.

Sec. 5.10-4. Organization and Terms of Office.

Sec. 5.10-5. Duties.

Sec. 5.10-6. Meetings and Procedures.

Sec. 5.10-7. Sunset.
SEC. 5.10-1. CREATION OF TASK FORCE.

The Board of Supervisors hereby establishes the Safer Schools Sexual Assault Task Force (the “Task Force”) of the City and County of San Francisco.

SEC. 5.10-2. FINDINGS.

(a) American women aged 18 to 24 are at the highest risk of sexual assault victimization compared to women in all other age groups.

(b) In 2013 alone, colleges and universities reported over 5,000 forcible sex offenses to the U.S. Department of Education. Forty-one percent of schools have not conducted a single investigation of a sexual assault complaint in the last five years, and only 10 to 25% of students found responsible for sexual assault were permanently expelled from campus. Approximately 80% of sexual assault crimes against undergraduate women go unreported to the police. Only 16% of student survivors of sexual assault received assistance from a victim services agency that provides aid in recovery, guidance through the criminal justice system, and/or assistance in obtaining restitution. A chronic lack of training of on-campus personnel hampers sexual assault investigations and disciplinary processes, often creating conditions that result in retraumatization of survivors.

(c) There are more than 105,000 students in San Francisco, enrolled in the more than 20 local colleges and universities. The City and County of San Francisco has long been dedicated to a survivor-centered approach in its anti-violence work, in which the survivor’s wishes, safety, and well-being take priority in all procedures.

(d) The survivor-centered Campus Safety and Accountability Act (“CASA”) was introduced on February 26, 2015, by a bipartisan coalition in the United States Senate, led by Senators Claire McCaskill and Kirsten Gillibrand. CASA is a critical piece of public safety legislation intended to curtail the epidemic of sexual violence on college and university campuses by protecting and empowering students, strengthening accountability and transparency for schools, and establishing penalties for noncompliance. Under CASA, colleges and universities would be required to designate confidential advisors to serve as a resource for survivors of assault, and to coordinate support services and accommodations for survivors, providing information about reporting options, and guidance or assistance in reporting the crime to campus authorities and/or local law enforcement. CASA would ensure that the confidential advisor, as well as all those responsible for investigating these crimes, and all those participating in disciplinary proceedings, will receive specialized training so that they have a firm understanding of the nature of these crimes and their effect on survivors. CASA would require colleges and universities to enter into memoranda of understanding with local law enforcement agencies to delineate responsibilities and share information so that when an assault occurs, both campus authorities and local authorities can focus on solving the crime rather than debating jurisdiction. In March 2015, the Board of Supervisors unanimously adopted and the Mayor signed Resolution No. 80-15 expressing the City’s support for CASA.

(e) In September 2014, the Governor signed into law California Senate Bill 967, commonly known as the “Yes Means Yes” law, adding Section 67386 to the Education Code. The Yes Means Yes law requires the governing boards of each community college district, the Trustees of the California State University, the Regents of the University of California, and the governing boards of independent postsecondary institutions, in order to receive state funds for student financial assistance, to adopt policies concerning sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking that include certain elements, including an affirmative consent standard in the determination of whether consent was given by a complainant. The law also requires these governing boards, to the extent feasible, to enter into memoranda of understanding or other agreements or collaborative partnerships with on-campus and community-based organizations to refer students for assistance or make services available to students. The law further requires the governing boards to implement comprehensive prevention and outreach programs addressing sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.
(f) The overarching purposes of CASA and the Yes Means Yes law are to reverse the cover-up culture that exists on campuses by encouraging colleges and universities to prevent sexual assaults, get rid of sexual predators, and educate students and university officials about the problem. These laws should have a significant positive impact on the health and safety of the tens of thousands of students who reside and study in San Francisco. But the benefits and impacts of CASA and Yes Means Yes are only obtainable if these laws are fully implemented at the local level.
